Continuation of 11, does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's arguments filed August 18, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has argued that "the catheter or its coating cannot be the polymer coating defined in the present claims because the catheter is not adhering to and contiguous with at least a portion of the distal core section' the Examiner is unclear as to this point. Regarding claim 1, the Examiner maintains that Murayama et at, teach are control with the surface contours and that Tezuka teaches providing a polymer coating had the providing the coating of Tezuka over the wire core of Murayama et al. which contains the surface contours would provide a polymer coating that adheres to and is contiguous with surface contours and would have a generally constant outside diameter. Further, regarding Applicant's arguments with respect to McMahon, the Examiner maintains the region. The Examiner finds Murayama et al. in view of Tezuka to teach coating surface contours to provide for slidability of the guide wire and reduced surface contact. McMahon teaches equivalent means for reducing the surface contact area of a guide wire by providing a coating with contact and non-contact areas that does not follow the tapered profile of the core. Providing a core which does not follow the tapered profile as in McMahon teacher and non-contact areas that does not follow the surface area by alwaying contact and non-contact regions.
